Secondly, we need direct access to raw data in order to conduct in-house analyses. As a result, the chosen product should offer generous programmatic data access through an API (Application Programming Interface). We additionally require bids to include a document detailing the privacy and security specifications offered. Bids should also specify the reliability and availability offered through a service-level agreement (SLA).

      Bids for the Social Media Monitoring System and Data Access System may be submitted either jointly or individually.

   7. Visualise interactions, communities of interest, or similar.
   8. Provide minimum of two separate user accounts.
   9. Include VKontakte data (desirable)
   10. Offer news and blog content (desirable)

ii. Please also submit your policy on client data. We would like details about which if any third parties, such as governments, companies, advertisers, other institutions or individuals have access to a) data identifying us as your client and b) logs of our activity? If no such data is accessible to third parties, please clarify which measures are in place to ensure our privacy.

iii. Please, mention whether compliance with data protection regulations limit the content of raw data feed supplied? For instance, does compliance with anti-extremism regulation mean that you filter out any inflammatory content prior to passing data on to the client (that is, filtering in addition to what might be conducted in-house by social media services).
